The International School of Hospitality Hosts the International Executive Housekeepers Association Las Vegas

Las Vegas, June 17, 2011 – The International School of Hospitality (TISOH), a hospitality continuing education school developed by industry for industry, hosted the Las Vegas Chapter of the International Executive Housekeepers Association (IEHA) for a special reception and lecture on coaching. The IEHA is a professional organization for persons employed in facility housekeeping at the management level.

“TISOH is honored to share its special brand of professional education to members of IEHA. With both organizations valuing education, there are wonderful synergies to capitalize on to serve the industry.” commented Timothy Lam, Director of TISOH. The lecture for the evening, titled “What is Coaching” was presented by Joel Moore CRDE, Director of Housekeeping at the Encore Resort and Shirley Fugazzotto CSEP CHE, Owner of The Stellar Experience. Both speakers are Instructors and Course Developers at TISOH.

After the lecture, TISOH announced the re-launch of the Hotel Operations Certificate program, a 90-hour program specially developed to help new entrants to the industry as well as those looking for training to help them reach the supervisory level. The program features comprehensive learning in front desk and housekeeping operations. Separately, TISOH also announced the launch of certification programs through the American Hotel & Lodging Educational Institute.

The TISOH’s campus is conveniently located close to McCarran International Airport at 3614 E. Sunset Road, Suite 110. TISOH offers certificate and executive diploma programs that run in the evenings for 16 weeks, in FASTtrack format for 5 weeks, and online learning with rolling admissions.

About TISOH

This academic year marks the fifth anniversary of the school. The International School of Hospitality (TISOH) was founded in 2005 by professors from the University of Nevada, Las Vegas. The mission of the school is to offer practical, short-term hospitality training programs developed for industry by industry. Along with class instruction, most courses include site visits and working internships. The school curriculum includes conference management and event planning, meeting & event catering, event design & production, hospitality leadership and supervision, wedding coordination and design, the art of concierge, art of food and beverage, hotel operations and hospitality human resources. Students may elect to study on site or enroll in TISOH's online courses. The school is an Academic Partner of the American Hotel & Lodging Educational Institute.
